1. Purpose

SEACOR Marine Holdings Inc. and all of its domestic and international subsidiaries, divisions and controlled affiliates (collectively, “SEACOR Marine” or the “Company”) are committed to complying with all applicable anti-corruption laws, including but not limited to the United States (U.S.) Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”) and the United Kingdom Bribery Act (“U.K. Bribery Act”), as well as applicable economic and trade sanctions. It is the long-standing policy of SEACOR Marine to maintain company-wide awareness of the importance of anti-corruption and sanction compliance.

SEACOR Marine strictly prohibits both bribery of public officials and commercial bribery among private parties. SEACOR Marine does not condone direct or indirect provision or receipt of any improper payment or other benefits for the purpose of gaining any commercial advantage.

2. Applicability

This Policy applies to all directors, officers, and employees of the Company (collectively, “SEACOR Marine Personnel”), regardless of where they are located. The Company also expects and requires its agents, contractors (to the extent they act on behalf of the Company), consultants, joint venture partners and other persons acting for or on behalf of the Company (collectively, “Business Partners”) to adhere to the principles enunciated in this Policy. Failure to comply with or adhere to this Policy may result in penalties, including termination.

3. Overview of the Applicable Laws

All SEACOR Marine Personnel and Business Partners must adhere to the following principles:

- a. General Requirements to Prevent Bribery and Corruption: SEACOR Marine Personnel and Business Partners may not directly or indirectly give, offer, promise, approve, or authorize to give to anyone – or accept or solicit from anyone – anything of value (including without limitation a bribe, kickback or other unlawful incentive) to induce the recipient to take improper action that would bestow a commercial benefit or advantage on SEACOR Marine or any other party. Such behavior is prohibited by the anti-corruption laws in virtually all jurisdictions.
- b. Dealing with Public Officials: While it is both the policy of SEACOR Marine and the laws of most jurisdictions to prohibit bribery of any kind, interactions with Public Officials (defined below) must be handled with particular care. Bribery of Public Officials is subject to heightened scrutiny in every country and often carries severe criminal penalties for both the employee and the Company. In addition, a number of countries, including the U.S., penalize the bribery of Public Officials in countries other than their own. For purposes of this Policy, a “Public Official” includes:

- i. any officer or employee of a government or any department, agency, or instrumentality thereof (including, for example, a government-owned or government-controlled state enterprise) or of a public international organization (such as the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the World Intellectual Property Organization, the World Trade Organization, the OECD, and the Organization of American States);
- ii. any person acting in an official capacity for or on behalf of any of the foregoing (including, for example, a civil servant, administrative or judicial personnel, a member of the military, or a consultant who holds a government position); or
- iii. any political party or official thereof, or any candidate for political office.

Though they are not themselves Public Officials, interactions with family members of, and others closely associated with, Public Officials are subject to the same restrictions as interactions with Public Officials.

It is not uncommon for SEACOR Marine Personnel or Business Partners to come into contact with employees of state-owned or state-controlled enterprises, who are considered Public Officials under the laws of most jurisdictions and this Policy. SEACOR Marine Personnel and Business Partners should exercise extra care in dealing with employees of state-owned or state-controlled enterprises, particularly if such employees are in a position to purchase, administer, recommend, or arrange for the purchase of SEACOR Marine products or services.

- c. Dealing with Persons Who May Engage in Bribery: SEACOR Marine Personnel or Business Partners may not give, offer, promise, approve, or authorize to give to any person anything of value if circumstances reasonably suggest a high probability that such person has offered or given, or will offer or give, anything of value for the purpose of inducing improper action.
- d. Books and Records: Certain anti-corruption and other laws require that SEACOR Marine’s books and records accurately and completely reflect the Company’s transactions and activities, including the nature and purpose of the transaction or activity. Accordingly, SEACOR Marine Personnel and Business Partners must not make any false, inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading entry in Company books or records for any reason.

- e. Engagement of Business Partners: Anti-corruption laws generally prohibit improper payments made indirectly or otherwise through a third party. Under certain circumstances, SEACOR Marine may be held liable for violations of applicable anti-corruption laws committed by its Business Partners. Accordingly, SEACOR Marine Personnel must exercise particular care when engaging Business Partners to act on behalf, or in the interest, of the Company.

- f. Compliance with Economic and Trade Sanctions: Due to the complexity of economic and trade sanctions, SEACOR Marine Personnel, Business Partners or any person acting on behalf of the Company must contact the Corporate Secretary and seek guidance before engaging in transactions that might be affected by such sanctions. Among other actions deemed appropriate by the Corporate Secretary, SEACOR Marine may screen proposed Business Partners and business transactions through the U.S. Office of Foreign Assets Control Sanctions List Search to determine if the individual or the entity is named on any U.S. government sanctions list.

4. Procedures

While SEACOR Marine Personnel must comply with the general requirements of this Policy at all times, detailed procedures regarding certain activities are important for anti-corruption compliance. Accordingly, all SEACOR Marine Personnel must understand and comply with the following procedures and related requirements.

b. Facilitating Payments to Public Officials

SEACOR Marine does not allow facilitating payments (i.e., small-sum payments to low-level Public Officials to facilitate routine, non-discretionary government functions). Before making or authorizing any forms of payment that may be perceived as facilitating payments, SEACOR Marine Personnel, Business Partners or any person acting on behalf of the Company must contact the Corporate Secretary for prior approval. Please note that legally mandated fees for expedited administrative services are not prohibited facilitating payments for the purpose of this provision if such fees are set in an open and transparent manner and if proper receipt is provided.

c. Employment, Internship and Business Partnership Opportunities for Persons Associated With Public Officials

SEACOR Marine does not allow providing any employment, internship, or business partnership opportunities to family members of a Public Official or other persons closely associated with a Public Official for the purpose of influencing, or as a reward for, that Public Official's official decision. Persons associated with Public Officials who are being considered for such opportunities must be evaluated based on the same standards as those applied to other candidates.

d. Political Contributions and Charitable Donations

Political contributions and charitable donations on behalf of SEACOR Marine require prior approval from the Chairman or the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. While SEACOR Marine Personnel may make personal political or charitable contributions allowed by applicable laws, any such payments must be made in a way that makes clear to an outside observer that they are purely personal in nature and are unrelated to any business of SEACOR Marine. In this regard, SEACOR Marine Personnel or Business Partners should exercise extra caution when the personal political or charitable donation is suggested or recommended by a party that has an existing or potential business relationship with SEACOR Marine.

e. Accounting

SEACOR Marine Personnel must not under any circumstance record any entry in Company books or records in a way that may conceal the true nature of a transaction. All Company operations and record keeping shall be conducted in accordance with the following principles:

- Transactions are executed in accordance with management’s general or specific authorization;
- Transactions are accurately recorded in sufficient detail as necessary to: (i) permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles or any other criteria applicable to such statements; and (ii) maintain accountability for assets;
- Access to assets is permitted only in accordance with management’s general or specific authorization;
- The recorded accountability for assets is compared with the existing assets at reasonable intervals and appropriate action is taken with respect to any differences; and
- No undisclosed or unrecorded fund or asset of the Company shall be established or maintained for any purpose.

f. Engagement of Non-U.S. Business Partners

SEACOR Marine Personnel may not engage a non-U.S. Business Partner on behalf of SEACOR Marine without consulting with the Corporate Secretary. SEACOR Marine Personnel who wish to retain or engage a non-U.S. Business Partner must conduct pre-engagement due diligence, obtain written compliance commitments and certifications, and undertake appropriate post-engagement supervision and oversight of non-U.S. Business Partners’ activities on behalf of the Company.

- Before engaging a non-U.S. Business Partner, SEACOR Marine Personnel must:
  - Determine that there is a legitimate business-related reason for engaging the non-U.S. Business Partner;
  - Conduct appropriate due diligence to ensure that the non-U.S. Business Partner is reputable, such as through an in-person interview, a visit to the Business Partner’s premises, reviewing the credentials of the Business Partner, and obtaining independent business references;
  - Confirm that the non-U.S. Business Partner is qualified to perform the required service and has sufficient capacity to do so;

- Ensure that the non-U.S. Business Partner's proposed compensation is based on prevailing industry standards and is commensurate with his/her experience and the services to be rendered;
- Obtain answers to the SEACOR Marine Questionnaire for Prospective Non-U.S. Business Partner attached as Appendix 1; and
- Fill out the SEACOR Marine Internal Form for Engaging a Non-U.S. Business Partner attached as Appendix 2.
- When finalizing the engagement of a non-U.S. Business Partner, SEACOR Marine Personnel must:
  - Discuss the Company's anti-corruption compliance expectations, as reflected in this Policy and applicable anti-corruption laws, with the non-U.S. Business Partner, and bring to the attention of the Corporate Secretary any concerns or suspicions that the non-U.S. Business Partner might not meet those expectations;
  - Screen the non-U.S. Business Partner and its key personnel against the U.S. Government's Consolidated Screening List of Restricted Parties, which is amended from time to time and is available at <https://www.trade.gov/data-visualization/csl-search>; and
  - Include in all contracts with non-U.S. Business Partners provisions requiring compliance with applicable anti-corruption laws and providing indemnification for any costs or penalties stemming from the Business Partner's violations of anti-corruption laws. A sample Anti-Corruption Provision to Appear in Contracts with Non-U.S. Business Partners is attached as Appendix 3.
- After engaging a non-U.S. Business Partner, SEACOR Marine Personnel must:
  - Actively monitor the Business Partner's actions and activities on behalf of SEACOR Marine and report any suspicious activities to the Corporate Secretary.
  - Collect the SEACOR Marine Anti-Corruption Compliance Certification for Non-U.S. Business Partners attached as Appendix 4.

- In appropriate circumstances as directed by the Corporate Secretary, provide, or arrange for, compliance training of the non-U.S. Business Partner and auditing of the non-U.S. Business Partner's business operations.

g. Personnel Training and Certification

The Corporate Secretary will determine which SEACOR Marine Personnel should receive anti-corruption compliance training and how often such training will be provided.

h. Compliance with this Policy

Compliance with the requirements and procedures set forth in this Policy, whether or not involving any adverse consequences to the Company, will be an important consideration in SEACOR Marine Personnel's annual evaluation and decisions concerning SEACOR Marine Personnel's promotion and continuing employment.

i. Reporting Violations

SEACOR Marine Personnel must report all known or suspected violations of this Policy and/or anti-corruption laws. The Company has established procedures for submitting complaints, reports, and complaints by employees regarding violations of this Policy as well as other questionable accounting or auditing matters. These procedures titled Audit Committee Procedures for Addressing Complaints about Accounting, Auditing and Other Matters are published on the Company's website, details of which are attached hereto as Appendix 5.
